

Yip Shu Ki, Suki

Trainee Solicitor

Suki is a dedicated legal professional with over 14 years of experience as a Legal Executive, with a strong focus on personal injury and employees' compensation litigation.

Suki has acted extensively in District Court and High Court proceedings arising from industrial accidents, road traffic accidents and slip-and-fall incidents, including fatal accident claims and applications for mentally incapacitated persons, where careful handling of evidence and safeguarding client interests was paramount.

Suki's experience includes:

- Personal Injury & Employees' Compensation – advising claimants in complex compensation and damages claims, guiding families through dependency cases, and ensuring vulnerable clients' positions are properly protected.
- Criminal Matters – working closely with counsel in criminal trials and mitigation hearings, with direct involvement in preparing cases and advising clients, ensuring that clients' positions are clearly understood and effectively presented.
- Wills & General Practice – preparing wills and deed polls, and providing clear, practical advice with patience and understanding, ensuring that clients' needs are fully appreciated and translated into precise legal solutions.

Suki is recognised for her meticulous preparation, attentive communication and steady judgment. Clients and colleagues value her ability to combine technical skill with empathy, ensuring that both evidence and client interests are handled with care.
